Chinese Horoscope

Year of The Rabbit

2023 is a year of the Rabbit, starting on January 22nd, 2023 (Chinese New Year), and ending on February 9th, 2024 (Chinese New Year's Eve). The sign of the Rabbit is a symbol of longevity, peace, and prosperity in Chinese culture. 2023 is predicted to be a year of hope. Find out how will the year shape out for the 12 Chinese zodiac signs!

Rabbit

Yes, this is technically, 'your year', dear Rabbit, however, you must remember that the moon never stays the same. Like its numerous phases, life itself can take you on numerous twists and turns this year that may be equally surprising and bewildering. The key thing to remember is that greater divine forces in the cosmos divinely protect you. Thus, rather than fighting them – it would be best if you surrender.

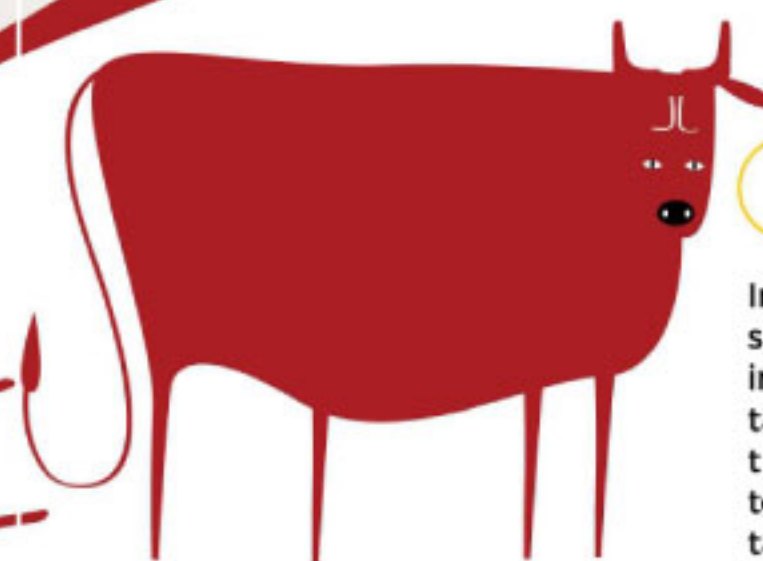

Rat

The year of The Rabbit is a thorny one for those born under the sign of The Rat. This year, you need to focus on hard work and dedicated effort. Ignore the naysayers and those who do not have the courage to say to your face what they rant about behind your back. If you're able to keep your eye on the prize, nothing and no one can stop you from achieving great success. Just make sure you do not compromise on your physical and mental health in pursuit of your ambitions.

Ox

In the year of the Rabbit, fortunes are on the rise for all those born in the sign of the Ox. Many single people might find themselves quite lucky in love this year. Those who are coupled-up might wish to consider taking their relationship to the next level. If you desire to have children, this year could prove to be a particularly blessed one. Be certain not to ignore your health. Be vigilant about medical check-ups, as well as, taking care of your mental health.

Tiger

The year of the Rabbit will prove to be a balanced year for those born under the sign of The Tiger. It's important that Tigers put their egos aside and learn from their failures and examine their shortcomings. Be sure to express gratitude to all those who help you along the way. It would be wise to be conservative with your spending and investments.

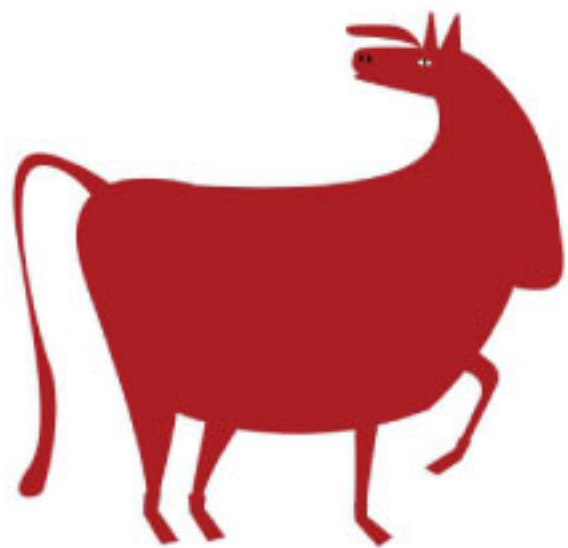

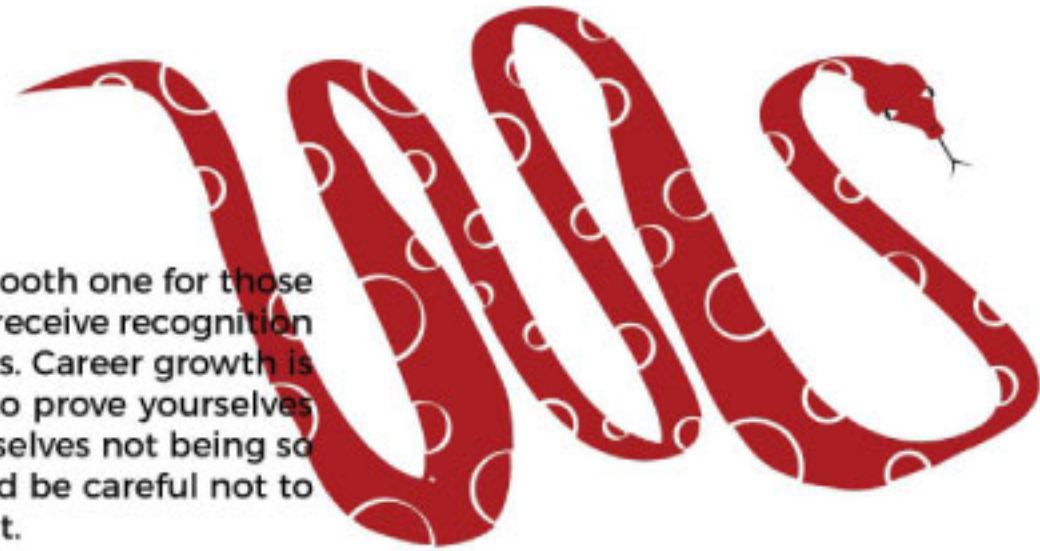

Dragon

In the realm of career and finances, the year of The Rabbit may prove to be rather beneficial to those born under the sign of The Dragon. People in positions of influence may propel you to greater heights. You might earn special tax breaks, bonuses, or cash rewards. However, this year might test you all quite a bit in matters of the heart. For those who are single, it's best to stay focused on your careers. Those who are in a relationship, be sure not to let your anger get the better of you. Regular meditation practice could prove to be very beneficial.

Snake

The year of The Rabbit may prove to be a rather smooth one for those born under the sign of The Snake. Many of you may receive recognition from superiors, bosses, and people in high positions. Career growth is in the cards for you, but it will come after having to prove yourselves over and over. Those who are single may find themselves not being so for too long. However, those in a relationship should be careful not to create conflict for the sake of drama and excitement.

Horse

The year of the Rabbit might prove to be quite tricky for those born under the sign of The Horse. The Devil is hidden in the details. Thus, be careful before trying to take bold risks - especially in the realm of your finances. Avoid rushing through stuff, because that might cause you to make silly mistakes that cause all your hard work and efforts to unravel. However, the realm of love and romance may prove to be pleasant and surprisingly prosperous.

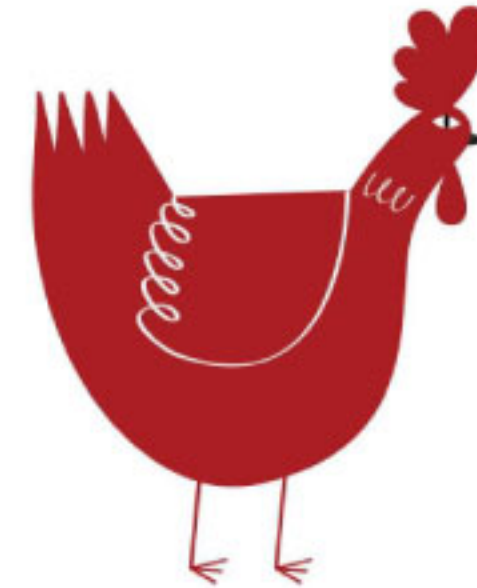

Sheep

The year of the Rabbit is one where those born under the sign of the Sheep must take the practical and pragmatic path if they wish to find a sense of balance and harmony in their day-to-day life. The more you get swayed by your emotions, the more you'll discover yourself drowning away in a sea of self-created chaos. A balanced body leads to a balanced mind, thus be sure you eat a balanced diet and practice the art of moderation, for the sake of your own mental harmony. Meditation and breath work will work wonders on your mind, body, and soul.

Monkey

The year of the Rabbit may prove to be quite a mercurial one for those born under the sign of The Monkey. It's best to persevere in your career, irrespective of how boring things get. Any stagnation that occurs will only be temporary. Before you know it, things will get far more exciting. Embodying the virtue of prudence and temperance may result in a steady rise in finances. Be sure to follow a healthy routine and maintain stable sleep cycles for optimal wellness and overall happiness.

Rooster

The year of the Rabbit is going to be quite challenging for those born under the sign of The Rooster. This is a year where you cannot escape hard work, nor can you take the help of 'shortcuts' in order to reach your goals. Taking the easy way out might just complicate matters all the more, leading you to get trapped in a tricky web of problems and strife. Avoid spending frivolously and focus more on saving. If you wish to invest your savings - go for options where the risk is the bare minimum.

Dog

The year of The Rabbit may prove to be a pleasantly stable one for those born under the sign of The Dog. Though there may be a few unexpected twist-and-turns in the realm of your career, rest assured that everything will eventually work out for the best in the end. Those who are single may find themselves a special someone. Those who are in a relationship might wish to take it to the next level. Those seeking to have children may just be blessed with a cute little bundle of joy.

Pig

The year of the Rabbit is a rather delightful one for those born under the sign of the Pig. Harmonious work relationships with your colleagues and superiors may help facilitate your own rise up the corporate ladder. Those who run their own businesses may get new investors, partners, or even new avenues of expansion. Love and romance will be harmonious, and many of you might experience an exciting surge of passion. Just be sure to take care of your health and wellness.

Western Horoscope 2023

Aries

This year, you're learning how to stand out—you're ambitious! You're creative! You deserve to be recognized! Prepare for some major life events (in a good way) to occur sometime around the eclipse in your sign on April 20 as well as the eclipse in your opposite sign, Libra, on October 14. And trust that people are watching while you shine bright like the star you are.

Gemini

You're stepping into 2023 fully loaded and ready for action. And that's very good news because you'll be getting lots and lots of your favorite thing this year: attention. But it's not gonna be all awards and applause, you'll also be asked to get to work. Some of this may not be fun or easy, but you'll be rewarded for your efforts starting in July.

Taurus

The people you surround yourself with—good and bad—say a lot about you, Taurus. Starting this March, it's time to get rid of crappy colleagues and toxic friends. Which, yes, means you'll lose some members of your crew this year, but try not to feel bad about it. You're just freeing up space for all the new, better friends who'll come around in October.

Cancer

This year may prove to be challenging for you. Problems in your romantic and platonic relationships are popping up in January and then again at the end of the year in December. This doesn't mean you're doomed to break up or be alone, but you'll need to deeply consider how you connect with others. Pick your friends carefully and your partner doubly so.

Leo

You've spent a long time thinking about the value of partnerships, and now you're ready to commit this year. Whatever that specifically looks like for you, you're yearning for deep, meaningful connections. And you're going to get them, by, say, falling for a new cutie or getting even closer with your current significant other.

Libra

Although you're all about balance (being the sign of the scales and all), your romantic and platonic relationships are anything but, and you'll spend most of the year fixing the drama. The best way to get through it is to let go of your ego and consider other people's needs, and by the end of the year, your ships will be unsinkable.

Sagittarius

Prepare for flashbacks, because this year is all about the past. You're spending time with family, the people you have a history with (your oldest friends and maybe an ex or two), and, most importantly, yourself. You're sorting out how your past has impacted the person you are today. Your most reflective and reminiscent month will be March.

Aquarius

You've always been the smarty-pants of the zodiac, but your words and actions carry extra weight once Pluto enters your sign in March. You'll have a drive as you've never felt before, and you're ready to get whatever you want. But a word of warning: It's easy to become demanding or downright ruthless as you chase your goals, so try to avoid stepping on others' toes.

Virgo

Deep breaths, Virgo, because this year likely won't be one for the highlights reel. That doesn't mean it's terrible—just that it's about slow change and personal growth. Past friends and exes will reappear, you'll be cutting some shitty relationships loose, and July may be especially lonely. But all of it means you'll have a very clean slate for 2024.

Scorpio

Fooling around may be a lot of fun, but it's time for something that matters this year. Look for a real connection and if you're already coupled up, concentrate on making sure you're aligned on the important stuff. Start the hard work early, and your love life can thrive.

Capricorn

You often seem calm, cool and collected, but you're so unwilling to be vulnerable that you're closing yourself off from loving others. And you're blocking others from truly getting to know you. This year is the time to change all that. May's Astro is attracting tons of love your way—start practicing opening up early so that you can be ready when it arrives.

Pisces

Honestly, there's just nobody like you, Pisces. And this year's astrology is teaching you to double down on that without holding back. March may be a tough month and the same for October. But stick to your values, honor your emotions, and don't be afraid to express yourself and all of your many feelings (yes, all of them). It's time for people to get to know the real you.

MBSB Bank Berhad

NCT Group entered into a Memorandum of Understanding with MBSB Bank Berhad on 23 September 2022 to develop sustainable financing options for the end-buyers of the upcoming NSIP project. The collaboration will explore providing services such as capital expenditure, working capital, trade solutions, as well as end-financing.

Dato' Sri Yap Ngan Choy, Founder and Group Managing Director of NCT Group of Companies said, "Our partnership with MBSB Bank is part of our long-term view to ensure financial services are more accessible to potential investors of NSIP. NSIP is our commitment to sustainability and we are cognisant that our shared interest will drive growth and success for the business as we accelerate our environmental, social and governance (ESG) agenda. In addition to NSIP's aim to achieve Green Real Estate (GreenRE) status, we will continue to pursue and implement more ESG elements to unlock new sources of value creation while solidifying NSIP's presence as an ecocentric industrial park in the state of Selangor."

Datuk Nor Azam M. Taib, Group Chief Executive Officer of MBSB Bank said, "The way forward is for every sector to come together and work collectively towards a common goal of protecting the environment for our future generation. Therefore, we highly value this collaboration with NCT Group for the NCT Smart Industrial Park (NSIP) project as it is aligned with MBSB Bank's strategic direction towards sustainability. While ensuring the end-buyers and investors of NSIP will benefit from the attractive financing options that MBSB Bank has to offer, we are confident that the shared vision in driving the ESG agenda by both parties will benefit all the stakeholders and lead us to greater business growth sustainably."

Fast on the heels of its signing with multiple strategic partners recently, NCT Group has entered into four synergistic collaborations to further strengthen its value proposition for the upcoming NCT Smart Industrial Park (NSIP) project.

NCT Group entered into a Memorandum of Business Exploration (MoBE) with AmBank Group and UOB Malaysia aimed at promoting sustainable development by offering dedicated financing packages to NCT Group's end-buyers for its upcoming NSIP project. These packages include IR 4.0, Capex, ESG and Working Capital, among others.

A Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) was signed with the Malaysia-China Chamber of Commerce (MCCC) to leverage on MCCC's forte in attracting investors from China and other ASEAN countries to invest in NCT's properties and development products under the NSIP project.

NCT Group also signed a Letter of Business Exploration (LBE) with Samaiden Group Berhad (SAMGB), an investment holding company primarily engaged in Engineering, Procurement, Construction, and Commissioning (EPCC) and renewable energy consultancy.

The MoU is set to serve as a starting point for NCT Group to explore Microsoft's trusted cloud network and advanced data management solutions for NCT and its future tenants at NSIP. NCT Group aims to collaborate with Microsoft to look into Internet of Things (IoT), data architecture, analytics, and artificial intelligence (AI) along with edge computing, all of which will be beneficial to NSIP to drive efficiency and productivity.

To encourage greater digital savviness for the tenants at NSIP, NCT Group intends to leverage Microsoft's Enterprise Skilling Program to deliver hands-on training on Microsoft technologies. Green Quarters Sdn Bhd

Leveraging on its strong momentum for its upcoming development of NCT Smart Industrial Park (NSIP) in Selangor, NCT Group signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with a leading global provider of information and communications technology (ICT) infrastructure and smart devices, Huawei Technologies (Malaysia) Sdn Bhd and Green Quarters Sdn Bhd Green Quarters, a leading expert in the energy and green consulting industry in Malaysia.

NCT's MOU with Green Quarters aims to achieve a sustainable industrial park in compliance with the local and international green building certification to reduce industrial and commercial carbon footprint. Through the MoU, Huawei will provide ICT infrastructure products and solutions, data centre solutions, and solar energy storage solutions to support NSIP in becoming a fully connected smart development. In addition, Huawei will also look into providing value-added technology innovations developed and created by the company.

Huawei Malaysia Digital Power Business, Vice President Mr Chong Chern Peng said the pursuit of an intelligent era and carbon neutrality have become the global shared mission in which data centres will see changes in service forms, energy supply, operations, and maintenance models. Responding to this calling, he said Huawei provided innovative solutions such as fast delivery, low PUE, and centralised energy storage to create low-carbon data centres and to play its part in contributing to a greener world.

Memorandum of Understanding Signing Ceremony with FEMACCA and HRD Corp

21 OCTOBER 2022

With building a sustainable and resilient workforce becoming increasingly important in an evolving business environment, NCT Group is taking a step forward by future-proofing talent development initiatives and strengthening the attractiveness of NCT Smart Industrial Park (NSIP). This was demonstrated via the Memorandum of Understandings (MoUs) signed with Human Resource Development Corporation (HRD Corp) and The Federation of Malaysia Chinese Commerce Association (FEMACCA).

The MoU will see HRD Corp providing human resource support to raise productivity, competitiveness, and growth at NSIP. This includes acting as a supporting body and advisory panel related to upskilling and reskilling programs for their current and future workforce in accordance with NSIP's industry. On the other hand, the MoU signed with FEMACCA is part of NCT's effort to encourage more foreign interest in NSIP. Aligned with NSIP's aspirations to contribute to the economic development of Selangor, the collaboration with FEMACCA will facilitate and streamline processes for investors from China with an eye for investment in NSIP.

The 12th Malaysia-China Entrepreneurs Conference

Leveraging on its unique proposition as the first Managed Industrial Park (MIP), NCT Group is working closely with the State government's investment arm, Invest Selangor, Malaysian Investment Development Authority (MIDA), and the Ministry of International Trade and Industry (MITI) to strengthen the exposure of NSIP in order to boost investment opportunities from local and international investors.

NCT was invited to present NSIP to more than 350 delegates at the recent 12th Malaysia-China Entrepreneurs Conference (MCEC 2022), themed "Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement" (RCEP), to further enhance economic and trade development between Malaysia and China through the NSIP project.

Endorsed by Invest Selangor, NSIP is located at the Integrated Development Region in South Selangor (IDRISS). Led as a Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR) inspired development that integrates smart innovations and sustainable solutions, the NSIP is set to cater to the current and future needs of entrepreneurs. The project, which is scheduled to start with site clearing by December 2022, has received an overwhelming response from local and international players, with 90% of Phase 1A fully booked.

Eddy Lim Swee Shien, General Manager and NSIP Project Lead gives a glimpse of NSIP at MCEC 2022.

During the conference, Eddy Lim Swee Shien, General Manager and NSIP Project Lead said "Sustainability is at the core of NSIP and the project truly embodies Environmental Social and Governance (ESG) values. NSIP is designed in line with the GreenRE rating criteria and is on track to being a solar-equipped, managed industrial park, among other components. This will be further supported by various partners, such as Telekom Malaysia Berhad, Solarvest Holdings Berhad, and Samaiden Group Berhad, and other players, who are aligned with NCT's vision to contribute towards reducing industrial carbon footprint."

NCT has been ramping up end-to-end digitalisation of its facilities at NSIP by partnering with prominent industry players to feature advanced infrastructure, state-of-the-art data analytics, artificial intelligence (AI), and Internet of Things (IoT) technology in order to boost productivity and maximise return of investment for investors.

"The project is consciously designed to also address common challenges faced by industrial parks, including floods and traffic congestion. There will be flood prevention features and smart traffic systems within and around the facility to better manage traffic flows" added Eddy.

NCT Group and Scheme Manager, CRS Corporate Services Sdn Bhd held a Cheque Handover Ceremony for purchasers of Phase 2 & 3 of the abandoned Genting Valley Batang Kali project in November 2022. This marks a significant day for the purchasers of the previously abandoned project known as The Genting Valley as they receive their first installment of the refund sum via a scheme of arrangement under Section 366 of the Companies Act 2016. The refund process involves the handing over of cheques amounting to approximately RM1.4 million to 147 Phase 2 and 3 buyers of the project.
